

Teaching and Learning in the Clinical Setting: Two-day Short Course 28-29 November 2024

This two-day short course is designed for everyday clinical educators working across a variety of disciplines. Composed of eight core topics, it covers the fundamental knowledge and applied skills to provide a practical, “how to” guide for teaching and learning in the clinical environment. Below are topics covered in previous short courses.

Day 1

How to teach in the clinical setting

How to facilitate a small group

How to supervise clinical students

How to plan a tutorial

Day 2

How to use feedback for learning

How to teach and assess cultural safety

How to remediate professionalism lapses

How to assess clinical skills using mini-CEX

Venue

Grafton Campus, Auckland

Cost (lunch included)

One-Day Registration: $399 for doctors & $199 for other professional groups

Two-Day Registration: $599 for doctors & $299 for other professional groups

Please send your name, current position, and contact details to Nikita Bansal (nikita.bansal@auckland.ac.nz) to register your attendance.